

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Writing Spot: Can you imagine swimming with dolphins? How amazing!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask a partner:

- Are you an adventurous person? Why or why not?
- What is something you would love to do? Jump out of a plane? Climb a famous mountain?

Can Do Statements

- I can write about what people did.
- I can write about advisability, necessity, or requirement.
- I can write a short e-mail describing personal experience.

Let's Explore!

Listen to John read his e-mail about his exciting experience. He can't wait to tell them!

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Hey guys,

How are you all doing? You would not believe what I did today. I swam with three dolphins in a bay near my accommodation. It was amazing! My guide explained that they train the dolphins with rewards like small fish. He said you must never yell around these beautiful animals, even if you get excited. If you are quiet, the dolphins come right up to you. They let you pet them and even touch their teeth! They weren't shy or nervous at all. The most incredible part was when I held onto a dolphin's fin and it carried me through the water. We were swimming very fast together. It was pretty cool. I attached a video to this e-mail for you to check out. It was great, you have to try it one day. When are you coming down here to meet me? We could have so many great adventures, like this one, together.

Cheers,

Johnny

Let's Practice!

Do I have to swim with the dolphins? Yes, you must!

Instructions: Read the sentences. Fill in the blank with the missing word. Use: to join, must, have to try.

1. It was great, you _____ it one day.
2. He said you _____ never yell around these beautiful animals, even if you get excited.
3. You have _____ me.

Let's Practice!

It's time to practice writing a casual e-mail about personal experiences.

Instructions: Use the words from the word bank to correctly complete the sentences.

Hey _____,

How are you all doing?

You would not believe what I did today.

I _____ with three dolphins in a cove.

My guide explained that they train the dolphins with _____ like small fish.

The most incredible part was I held onto a dolphin's _____ and it carried me through the water.

I attached a video to this e-mail for you to

_____. _____, Johnny

P.S. Yes... I _____ a dolphin.

Word bank

rewards swam guys kissed Cheers
fin
check out

Extension Activity

It is time to write about your own personal experience.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write a casual e-mail to a friend about a personal experience.
- Include a greeting, a question, a description, an opinion and a closing phrase.
- Use adjectives to make your email more interesting.
- Use correct punctuation.
- Use casual language.
- Read your e-mail aloud.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write a casual e-mail to a friend.

☐ ☐

I describe a personal experience.

☐ ☐

I add description to make my writing more interesting.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to train (verb): to teach (someone or something) the skills needed to do something e.g. The guides trained the dolphins.
- reward (noun): a kind of payment (to someone or something) for something good that has been done
e.g. The dolphins got a reward for positive behavior.
- guide (noun): a person who leads or directs other people
e.g. The guide took us on a tour.
- fin (verb): a thin flat part that sticks out from the body of a fish
e.g. I held onto the dolphin's fin.
- to check out (expression): to examine or try something e.g. Check out my dolphin video.
- to pet (verb): to gently touch an animal
e.g. I pet the dolphin while we swam together.

Learning Points

Simple Past tense - Irregular

Some verb forms in the past are irregular.
They do not end in -ed. Here is a list of irregular verbs.

Verb	Simple Past tense
arise	arose
break	broke
be	was / were
beat	beat
become	became
bend	bent
begin	began
bet	bet
buy	bought
swim	swam

Examples:

- John swam with the dolphins.
He broke his leg in Costa Rica.

Learning Points

Recommendations

Must

You use must to express something that you or a person feels is an obligation. This form is used only in the present and future.

Example:

I must finish this job before I go out.

Sally must explain this if she wants her students to succeed.

It's late. I must get going!

Have To

I/You/We/They	have to don't have to	eat read
He/She/It	has to doesn't have to	work eat

You use have/has to when it is your responsibility to do something. Have to and has to come before a verb.

Examples:

You have to take warm clothes. It's cold at night.

Sally has to leave home at seven o'clock every morning.

You use don't have to / doesn't have to when it's not necessary to do something.

Examples:

It isn't cold outside. You don't have to wear a jacket.

David has good boots. He doesn't have to buy a new pair.

To make a question with have to, put do/does before the subject. Then add have to and a verb.

Do Does	I/ you/ we/ they he/she/it	have to have to	work on Saturdays? sleep in a tent?
------------	-------------------------------	--------------------	--

